IRONTON GAMES TRANSFERRED.

The following telegram was received Thursday morning from Joe Carr of the Ohio State League:
Columbus, O., August 11, 1915.
Charles Dietrich, Maysville, Ky.
The Ironton-Frankfort series scheduled for Ironton will be played at Frankfort. It is probable that all games scheduled to be played at Ironton will be transferred to the cities with which the Ironton club is scheduled to play, thereby giving all of the clubs in the league more at home games.
JOE CARR.

This means that Maysville will have four more games at home than originally scheduled. The local club was scheduled to play at Ironton on August 16, 17, 18 and 19, but under this change these games will be played here.

MAYSVILLE 7, CHARLESTON 4.

Wednesday at Charleston Maysville defeated the Senators by the score of 7 to 4, and as Frankfort lost to Portsmouth, this win puts Maysville in second place. The score:

The following officers were elected for a term of six months:

When the elder Connors heard the fine he roared in his pocket and with a smile pulled a bright Lincoln penny out of his jeans. Thinking he was free, but he was much chagrined when he had to come across with $12.35 for the costs.

DECIDED GAINS

SHOWN BY DAILY BULLETIN-PUBLIC LEDGER CONTESTANTS—MOST EVERY NAME IN LIST SHOWS DECIDED INCREASE.

Only Three More Days of Extra Offer—Closes Next Saturday Night at 9 P. M., Sharp.

DO NOT HOLD SUBSCRIPTIONS BACK.

Candidates Are Not Restricted As To Number of Subscriptions They May Buy During This Special Offer—The Larger the Amount the Larger the Returns To You In This Special Ballot.

The special offer for subscriptions made to all contestants closes Saturday, August 14, at 9 p. m. In order to have subscriptions count on this special offer all subscriptions must be received at the Contest Department at this hour. In order to give the ladies in the territory outside the city the same amount of time to work as those in the city, the management will accept all subscriptions that are mailed before 9 p. m., Saturday evening, but the envelope or package in which these subscriptions are sent must bear the postmark of the date and hour mailed.

New Candidates Register.

The mail brings in its quota of new candidates and many in the city of Maysville are registering daily. Since the first list was published some two weeks ago, a great number of names have been added and more will be added every day.

Any young woman who desires to enter her name may write to the Contest Manager, and she will at once be placed on the free subscription list to receive the paper every day at her house until the close of the contest, and will be furnished with receipt blanks and other information to assist her in securing votes.

The standing of the contestants as presented today shows a decided gain in the standing of a number of ladies who were not so high in the first list shown. Many that were near the bottom of the list have forged very near the top of the column.

Great Interest.

On all sides interest in the great contest is taking a great increase and patrons are selecting their favorite candidate for whom they are voting liberally.

The leaders are increasing their vote and those who are in the contest and gaining every day.

It is interesting to check off the battle of ballots and every mail makes some changes in the relative position of some candidate. Now it is one contestant that receives a boost toward the top and then another. But the standing as published in the paper does not tell the whole story. It is a good thing to keep near the head of the list, but it is a greater advantage to have a reserve back of which no one knows anything about, and which can be brought into play later on.

Industrious Furge Ahead.

The list of candidates and the number of votes received by each show that the industrious are forging ahead in the battle of ballots. The votes are free, but in many cases it is necessary for the candidates to go around among their friends and gather them in. These free votes are given on payments on subscriptions and also for coupons and nomination blanks printed in the papers daily.

The votes on the subscriptions are free and the number is in proportion to the amount paid at the regular rate.

Subscription Ballots.

All ballots issued on subscription payments are good any time during the contest, and for this reason, we do not deem it advisable to hold their subscription back.

By having the paper started to the subscribers you will be able to secure their coupons and nomination blanks.

Everything Fair and Equal.

Every part and phase in the contest has been planned out in the utmost fairness. The territory, both in the city and the county, has been divided into two districts so that the candidates in one part of the country will not be competing with more favorable conditions than candidates in another part.

In the city of Maysville the interest is such that friends of candidates call at the office to learn how some friend is progressing and letters of inquiry are received by mail. New candidates are entering the contest and without a doubt it will be the greatest voting contest ever conducted by a newspaper.

Great Special Offer.

For nine days only, beginning Friday, August 6, and ending Saturday, August 14, at 9 p. m. in addition to the votes given on subscriptions according to the regular schedule, we make the contestants the following offer:

We will give to each and every contestant an extra ballot of 100,000 votes who turns in to the Contest Department five years or sixty months subscriptions between the above dates. This is your chance to catch the leaders. Take advantage of it.

Summary of Prizes Offered.

A five-passenger car will be given in that receive the largest number of votes. The second prize is two $100 Victrolas, third prize, two $50 diamond rings and the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh prizes is $200 in gold given to the different young ladies.

Prizes All Free.

These prizes will be given absolutely free to the young ladies of Maysville and surrounding territory. All that is necessary to be a winner is to be one of the first seven in your district when the votes are counted. The ladies to receive these prizes will be determined by popular vote, as explained elsewhere in the paper.

Many a young woman will be saying in a few weeks: "Oh, if I had only asked my friends to clip the coupon and nomination blanks from the Daily Bulletin and Public Ledger and Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the danger they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. POTASH "MADE IN AMERICA" POSSIBLE.

Washington, August 11.—Potash production in the United States is in prospect. The potash famine produced by the European war is being keenly felt by manufacturers of fertilizer, as heretofore this country has been depending on Germany for the supply. Over 20,000 tons of potash salts, the property of American firms purchased before the recent embargo on German exports, are now interned on three steamers in German ports, according to Commercial Agent Thomas H. Norton. In 1914 we imported this product to the value of nearly $17,000,000.

Several deposits have been located in California, and it is also planned to extract potash from kelp, enormous masses of this seaweed being found off the Pacific coast. Air-dried kelp is said to contain about 15 per cent of the potash, which should find a ready market among manufacturers of mixed fertilizers.

For some years past, under both Republican and Democratic laws, this product has been on the free list, for the benefit of farmers, but if the United States is to take up its manufacture the promoters of the industry believe that in order to render this country independent of Germany a protective duty must be levied; otherwise the German product will later monopolize the market and put the American potash manufacturer out of business.

THE AGE OF MIRACLES IS PAST.

(Anacardium Standard.) Jonah may have swallowed the whale, but human history will have to be shown that the United States will ever elect Ill. Johnson President.

King acts are next stepping stones to misfortune.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL A CLEAR PROFIT TO THE GROWER.

Washington, August 11.—Free wool, and the adaptation of weaving machinery to short-fiber wools, has developed a market in the United States for South African wools, according to Consul Masterson, Durban, South Africa. He reports two large shipments of this wool to the United States recently, amounting to over $1,200,000 in value. During the present wool season American buyers have been heavy purchasers of African wools aggregating $5,000,000.

On account of the high prices of wools, due to the European war, American farmers have not felt the effects of the free wool provision in the Underwood tariff law, but the far-reaching effects of free trade are indicated in the manner in which the importation of the South African product is encouraged. Heretofore there has been little imported, and that for carpets.

The tariff board report rendered in 1909, speaking of the cost of production of the South African wools, says: "With an average valuation on breeding sheep of $2.50 per head and an investment per head of not over 40 cents a year, and taking into account the low cost of wages and provisions, the moderate leasing values of their grazing lands, the mild winters which do not demand other food for the animals than that found on the ranges, the strong demand for mutton of all classes, it is evident that the African woolgrower is able to meet all his expenses from the sale of his surplus stock and mutton, leaving the wool as a clear profit on his investment." Of course, the American farmer can not meet such competition in normal times without a protective duty on wool.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Some People We Know, and We Will Profit By Hearing About Them.

This is a purely local event. It took place in Maysville. Not in some faraway place. You are asked to investigate it. Asked to believe a citizen's word; To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at home is more worthy of confidence. Than one you know nothing about. Endorsed by unknown people. Mrs. Dora Mefford, Maysville, says: "I had been feeling poorly for some time before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them and before long I felt stronger and better and I slept good at night."

GOVERNMENT DEPENDENT UPON ONE TORPEDO FACTORY.

Washington, August 11.—Last May, when Josephus Daniels took his trusty pen in hand and spilled several quarts of ink over a lot of good white paper which was subsequently "washed on to" President Garfield of Williams College, he said:

"Congress has enlarged the torpedo plant at Newport, more than trebling its capacity, and the cost of manufacturing torpedoes has been reduced from $4,202.11 to $3,245.72 each."

It now appears that "the torpedo plant at Newport" is not engaged in "manufacturing torpedoes" at all, that it is not capable of such manufacture, and that there is only one plant in the United States which today can turn out a finished torpedo. That is the E. W. Bliss Company, makers of the Bliss-Leavitt torpedo, in the patents of which the United States claims an interest. It was on account of its interest in the patent that the government refused to permit the Bliss Company to manufacture torpedoes for any of the belligerent European nations.

This information comes to the front in connection with a schedule for proposals which was sent out in May by the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts of the Navy Department, and asking for bids on every part, except the explosive, that goes into the manufacture of torpedoes. The proposal specifies delivery of these parts at the torpedo station at Newport, and the parts called for when assembled, would make 310 torpedoes.

This schedule calls for the delivery of the various parts of torpedoes for which bids are asked, twenty-five per cent 150 days after the contract is signed and twenty-five per cent each month thereafter until the contract has been filled. Now, torpedoes are practically nothing but miniature motor boats which carry a heavy charge of high explosives in the head. This schedule calls for a variety of parts, such as 311 casings for the torpedoes, 320 forward and 320 after propellers, 325 each submerged guide bottoms and tops, 360 turbine wheels, engine parts, casings, combustion flasks, driving gears and a long list of minor parts, such as any machine shop could turn out.

The schedule itself is an acknowledgment on the part of the Navy Department that it is not equipped to manufacture any of the component parts of torpedoes.

So it is difficult to imagine just what Josephus Daniels had in mind when he spoke of "manufacturing" torpedoes. As a matter of fact, if any disaster should overtake the Bliss factory, the government would be unable to obtain even the most important parts of torpedoes in the United States, and in case of war, naval officers say, the Newport torpedo station would be practically useless, as the finished torpedoes could be manufactured much more quickly at the Bliss factory.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardul, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardul, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardul is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardul makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardul has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardul today.

THE BUG.

Washington, D. C.—"The line of the Bug (pronounced boog), toward which the Russians some days ago were said to be retreating and which they were determined to hold against the invading Teutonic forces, is a dividing line between what is now known as Russian Poland and the provinces of Russia proper," says the latest statement issued by the National Geographic Society upon the war geography of Europe.

"The country traversed by the River Bug offers many advantages for obstinate defense. Along much of its course, the river's banks are very difficult, and the country beside for long stretches is heavily wooded. Extremely bad roads and lake, pond and marsh by the way add to labors of military advances here."

"This river forms one of the strongest lines of defense in the west of the Russian empire. A network of feeding railways are laid to pour men and munitions into any sector of this line from any interior point in the empire. From Petrograd to Odessa, railways converge upon the River Bug. Furthermore, the river line is paralleled along its entire Russian Poland course—just as Germany's eastern frontier is paralleled—by a railroad, passing from the fortress in the north, Ostrovetz, through Brestok, Belsk, the fortress Brest Litovsk, Kovell, to Vladimir Volynsk in the south, just beyond the Galician frontier. Another branch of this railway runs from Brest Litovsk, close beside the river, finally crossing the Bug and terminating at Kholm."

"The Bug rises in Galicia, about fifty miles east of Lemberg; flows west to Kamionka Bask, about twenty-eight miles east-northeast of Lemberg, and then turns north-northwest to the Russian border. In Russia, for a great part of its course, it flows north along the eastern borders of Poland. Northeast of Warsaw it leaves the Polish border, turns west, and joins the Vistula river, twenty-five miles northwest of Warsaw, at the powerful fortress of Novo Gorgevsk. To its junction with the Vistula the Bug travels 450 miles, more than 300 miles of which are navigable. From Brest Litovsk, it is navigable for larger river boats, while above the fortress it is navigated by barges and rafts."

"In peace times, a considerable traffic is carried on upon the Bug. It is a very important factor in the Russian lumber trade, great rafts of logs being floated down its course from the rich forests that line its upper reaches. Grain, fowls—principally geese, for the quality of which the Polish peasant is widely noted—and cattle are also transported on the river. The Bug is connected by waterways with the interior of Russia and its waterborne freight can be sent into southern or northern Russia, as well as into Germany. Canals connect the Bug with the Pripiet, and, thus with the Dnieper river and Crimean land, and with the Nemen river."

"The Bug river offers one of the best lines in the west for the quick and uninterrupted concentration of Russian armies and their supplies. It also reduces the amount of frontier to be held by a great number of miles—an advantage, however, shared in by friend and foe. Still, a falling back upon this line would necessitate the surrender of Warsaw, one of the richest manufacturing towns of Russia, of innumerable industrial towns and villages, and tens of thousands of acres of richly productive farmlands. Russian Poland, beyond the Bug, is an

MAN CARRIES ELECTRICITY.

London, August 11.—The theory that a man's body may contain enough electricity to set off a charge of explosive, was put forward this week by a government expert on combustibles to account for an explosion at Slomarket which resulted in the death of four men.

Major Cooper-Kay, the expert, expressed the opinion that one of the men had accumulated electricity in his body, "and not having earthed himself, a spark passed through a dangerous commodity and so caused it to explode. He added: "It was an exceptional incident, which probably could have been prevented by the insertion of a metal stud in the heel of the shoe."

CONDUCTOR INJURED.

Mr. W. H. Boyer, conductor on the C. & O. local freight No. 64, was injured Thursday morning by being run into by the switch engine in the local yards.
 Conductor Boyer finished checking up his train and in making his way to the depot it was necessary for him to pass the locomotive. The cylinder cocks on the locomotive were open and a volume of steam was escaping, but to a real railroader this is no hindrance, and Boyer continued walking through the cloud of steam. The steam, however, prevented him from seeing the yard engine approaching on the track on which he was walking and he was struck and knocked down. Upon medical aid being summoned it was learned that he had received a fracture of the cheek bone and injuries about the head, shoulder and hips. Although his injuries were not serious he was taken to the hospital on No. 17.

Dr. B. Kahn, the optometrist and oculist, of Cincinnati, O., who has his office in the O'Keefe building, made his regular professional visit to Maysville Monday and Tuesday. The Doctor is a gentleman in his dealings and a specialist in his profession, and has made a host of friends here and many people in this section are taking advantage of the opportunity of having their glasses fitted by an expert optometrist.

Profit-Sharing With Retail Buyers

On August 1, 1914 we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 300,000 Ford cars between August 1, 1914 and August 1, 1915 we would share profits with the retail purchasers, to the extent of from $40 to $60 on each car. We have sold over 300,000 Ford cars in the time specified, and profit-sharing checks of $50 each will be distributed as rapidly as possible after August 15, 1915. Retail purchasers who have not yet mailed us their profit-sharing coupons, properly endorsed, should do so without delay.

Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-15 has been most successful. We thoroughly believe in it, but, realizing the uncertainty of conditions generally makes it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date.

We are, however, confident of our inability to reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars.
